Executive Summary

1. Context and Rationale

India's handicrafts sector occupies a distinctive position within the country's export landscape, combining deep cultural heritage, widespread employment generation, and significant untapped export potential. The sector is supported by a large artisan base, geographically diverse production clusters, and a product portfolio spanning home décor, furniture, textiles, lighting, utility articles, jewellery, and lifestyle accessories. Over decades, Indian handicrafts have established a sustained presence in global markets and continue to enjoy recognition for craftsmanship, design richness, and cultural authenticity.

However, recent export performance trends indicate that this inherent strength has not translated into proportionate gains in global market share or value realisation. Over the past five years, India's total handicrafts exports have followed a modest growth trajectory, recording a CAGR of approximately 3.2% in absolute USD terms, reaching USD 3,918 million in 2024-25. Despite this incremental expansion, exports remain heavily concentrated in a limited number of traditional destinations, most notably the United States and select European markets. While these markets continue to provide scale and stability, export growth in value terms has been modest, particularly when assessed in USD terms. Apparent growth in INR terms is significantly influenced by currency movements and does not necessarily reflect improvements in competitiveness or value addition.

This concentration exposes the sector to demand-side risks arising from economic cycles, policy changes, and consumption trends in a narrow set of markets. At the same time, global demand for home décor, lifestyle products, and artisanal goods is expanding across several emerging and non-traditional markets, driven by rising incomes, urbanisation, and evolving consumer preferences. India's relatively limited penetration in these markets highlights a strategic gap that this study seeks to address.

2. Objectives of the Study

The market diversification study was undertaken with the primary objective of identifying actionable pathways to reduce export concentration risks and expand India's handicrafts exports into FTA, new and emerging markets. The specific objectives included:

- Assessing India's current handicrafts export performance and identifying patterns of market concentration
- Analysing global demand trends and import profiles across a wide set of potential diversification markets
- Identifying markets where demand patterns align with India's existing production strengths and export capabilities
- Shortlisting priority markets for focused export promotion and policy intervention

- Generating strategic recommendations to operationalise market diversification in a structured and sustainable manner

The study was designed as a foundational analytical exercise to inform subsequent country-specific and product-specific deep dives.

3. Approach for Shortlisting Diversification Markets

The analytical framework for market selection was anchored in the Ministry of Textiles’ 40-Country Market Diversification Strategy, which was initiated to reorient India’s exports in response to external trade disruptions, especially from USA’s reciprocal tariffs, and changing global trade dynamics. A structured funnel-based approach was adopted to systematically narrow a broad universe of potential markets to a focused set of priority destinations.

Traditional export markets were largely excluded at the initial screening stage to ensure that the exercise genuinely supported diversification beyond conventional destinations. Select exceptions were retained where existing or upcoming FTAs create new product-level opportunities. Priority was accorded to countries with existing FTAs, FTAs under ratification, or ongoing FTA discussions with India, given the potential for improved market access and reduced tariff and non-tariff barriers.

In parallel, emphasis was placed on emerging and upcoming markets in regions such as Latin America, Africa, the Middle East, and parts of Asia, characterised by expanding middle-class populations, rising incomes and increasing demand for home décor and lifestyle products. Markets were further evaluated through a demand-capability alignment lens, assessing convergence between their top imported handicraft products and India’s top exported handicraft categories globally and to the respective countries.

This criteria-driven and sequential screening process resulted in the identification of 18 priority markets with the highest potential for scalable and sustainable diversification of Indian handicrafts exports.

4. Scope of Market Analysis

The study undertook a detailed product-level assessment across 18 priority diversification markets. For each country, the top 10 imported handicraft product categories were initially analysed to assess demand patterns and product relevance; the top 10 categories identified through this assessment are presented below to illustrate alignment with India’s export strengths.

United Kingdom: Toys & Dolls, Wooden Furniture, Paintings & Drawings, Wooden Bedroom Furniture, Parts of Furniture, of Wood, Made-up Textile Articles, Boxes and Cases, Decorative Art Pieces, Decorative Electric Lighting Fixtures, Sculptures & Statues.

Switzerland: Paintings & Drawings, Wooden Furniture, Paintings & Drawings, Toys & Dolls, Sculptures & Statues, Decorative Lamp and Lighting Fixtures, Wooden Bedroom Furniture, Made-up Textile Articles, Metal Furniture Parts, Boxes & Cases.

Australia: Toys & Dolls, Wooden Furniture, Wooden Bedroom Furniture, Made-up Textile Articles, Chandeliers & Electric Lighting Fittings, Metal Furniture Parts, Articles of Bedding, Cushions & Home Furnishings, Boxes & Cases, Articles of Jewellery, Textile Headgear & Hats.

South Korea: Toys & Dolls, Boxes and Cases, Made-up Textile Articles, Hand Paintings & Drawings, Glass Decorative Articles, Textile Hats and Headgear, Articles of Bedding, Cushions & Home Furnishings, Wooden Furniture, Leather Wallets & Small Accessories, LED Chandeliers & Electric Wall/Ceiling Lights.

United Arab Emirates: Paintings & Drawings, Toys & Dolls, Wooden Furniture, Imitation Jewellery & Parts, Wooden Bedroom Furniture, Paper & Paperboard Decorative Articles, Decorative Lamp and Lighting Fixtures, Imitation Jewellery, Metal Furniture Parts, Articles of Bedding, Cushions & Home Furnishings.

Singapore: Table, Kitchen & Household Articles, Toys & Dolls, Non-Electrical Lamps & Lighting Fixtures, Wooden Furniture, Tableware & Kitchenware (Ceramic & China), Leather Wallets & Small Accessories, Imitation Jewellery, Boxes and Cases, Original Sculptures & Statuary, Paper & Paperboard Decorative Articles.

Russia: Toys & Dolls, Decorative Lamp and Lighting Fixtures, Tableware (Ceramic & China), Textile Headgear, Christmas Decorative Articles, Table, Kitchen & Household Articles, Wooden Furniture, Knitted & Crocheted Home Furnishing Articles, Glass Tableware & Kitchenware.

Saudi Arabia: Wooden Furniture, Decorative Collages & Plaques, Wooden Bedroom Furniture, Imitation Jewellery, Toys & Dolls, Articles of Bedding, Cushions & Home Furnishings, LED Chandeliers & Electric Wall/Ceiling Lights, Wooden Office Furniture, Textile Headgear, Tableware & Kitchenware (Ceramic & China).

Thailand: Articles of Jewellery, Copper Handicraft Articles, Boxes and Cases, Toys & Dolls, Ceramic Articles, Handbags of Paperboard or Vulcanised Fibre, Made-up Textile Articles, Paper & Paperboard Decorative Articles, Wooden Furniture, Imitation Jewellery.

Turkey: Toys & Dolls, Boxes and Cases, Tableware & Kitchenware (Ceramic & China), Articles of Jewellery, Wooden Furniture, Made-up Textile Articles, Drinking Glassware, Paper & Paperboard Decorative Articles, LED Chandeliers & Electric Wall/Ceiling Lights.

Malaysia: Wooden Furniture, Toys and Dolls, Glass Decorative Articles, Copper Handicraft Articles, Paper & Paperboard Decorative Articles, Metal Furniture Parts, Boxes and Cases, Made-up Textile Articles, Paper Products, Fibre Handbags, Room Deodorisers & Fragrance Preparations, Agarbatties.

Brazil: Toys and Dolls, Decorative Lamp and Lighting Fixtures, Table, Kitchen & Household Articles, Glassware for Table & Kitchen Use, Quilts, Bedspreads & Duvets, Made-up Textile Articles, Christmas Decorative Articles, Drinking Glasses & Stemware, Articles of Bedding, Cushions & Home Furnishings, Drinking Glasses and articles of glassware.

Israel: Toys and Dolls, Wooden Furniture, LED Chandeliers & Electric Wall/Ceiling Lights, Aluminium Household Articles, Boxes and Cases, Wooden Bedroom Furniture, Made-up Textile Articles, Metal Furniture Parts, Textile Headgear, Furniture of Cane, Wicker & Bamboo.

Kazakhstan: Toys and Dolls, Wooden Furniture, Ceramic Tableware & Household Articles, LED Chandeliers & Electric Wall/Ceiling Lights, Wooden Bedroom Furniture, Textile Headgear, Boxes and Cases, Decorative Electric Ceiling & Wall Light Fixtures, Metal Furniture Parts, Made-up Textile Articles.

Argentina: Toys and Dolls, Decorative Lamp and Lighting Fixtures, Table, Kitchen & Household Articles, Made-up Textile Articles, Carved Decorative Articles (Grass & Bamboo), Quilts, Bedspreads & Comforters, Decorative Articles, Imitation Jewellery, Textile Headgear.

South Africa: Toys and Dolls, Textile Headgear, Wooden Furniture, Made-up Textile Articles, Boxes and Cases, Decorative Collages & Plaques, Ceramic Tableware & Household Articles, Wooden Bedroom Furniture, Imitation Jewellery, Articles of Jewellery.

Oman: Toys and Dolls, Wooden Bedroom Furniture, Wooden Furniture, Chandeliers & Lamp and Lighting Fittings, Bedding & Furnishing Articles, Furniture of Cane, Wicker & Bamboo, Household & Toilet Articles (Ceramic & China), Boxes and Cases, Wooden Office Furniture, Tableware (Ceramic & China).

Nigeria: Kitchen & Household Articles, Toys and Dolls, Non-Electrical Lamps & Lighting Fixtures, Wooden Furniture, Tableware & Kitchenware (Ceramic & China), Paper & Paperboard Decorative Articles, Collectors' & Curated Specimen Articles, Ceramic Tableware & Household Articles, Wooden Office Furniture, Knitted & Crocheted Interior Furnishing Articles.

5. Key Findings

5.1 Market Concentration and Growth Constraints

The analysis confirms that Indian handicrafts exports remain highly concentrated in a limited number of traditional markets. While these destinations continue to absorb large volumes, growth in value terms has been modest over the past five years. Incremental gains within mature markets are becoming increasingly difficult due to market saturation, heightened competition from other supplier countries, and price sensitivity.

5.2 Emerging Signals in Non-Traditional Markets

Several non-traditional and emerging markets exhibit favourable demand trends for handicrafts, home décor, and lifestyle products. However, India's penetration in these markets remains relatively low, indicating unrealised potential rather than lack of demand. In many cases, competing suppliers have established early mover advantages through better branding, distribution networks, and buyer engagement.

5.3 Demand-Side Challenges

On the demand side, India faces tariff and non-tariff barriers in several diversification markets, along with intense competition from other exporting countries. Dependence on discretionary consumption exposes handicrafts exports to economic cycles, while limited global branding constrains value realisation and buyer recall.

5.4 Supply-Side Constraints

On the supply side, the sector continues to be characterised by fragmented MSME-led production, uneven quality consistency, capacity and productivity constraints, rising input and logistics costs, compliance and sustainability readiness gaps, and limited adoption of digital tools for market access and buyer engagement.

6. Strategic Implications

Taken together, these findings point to a clear strategic imperative: future growth in handicrafts exports cannot rely solely on traditional markets or incremental volume expansion. Sustained export performance will require a deliberate shift toward market diversification, sharper product-market alignment, and value-led positioning.

Market diversification is not merely a geographical exercise but requires alignment of products, designs, quality standards, logistics, and institutional support with the specific characteristics of each target market.

7. Recommendations and Way Forward

7.1 Targeted Market Engagement

Focused export promotion efforts should be directed toward the identified priority markets, with market-specific strategies rather than uniform global approaches.

7.2 Product-Market Alignment

Product groups should be aligned with market-specific demand patterns, ensuring that export promotion prioritises categories where India has both demand pull and supply readiness.

7.3 Logistics and Market Access

Improving logistics connectivity to priority markets, optimising shipping routes, and strengthening export infrastructure will be critical to cost competitiveness.

7.4 Design, Branding and Sustainability

Collaborations for design development, branding, and sustainability compliance should be strengthened to enhance value realisation and long-term competitiveness.

8. Conclusion

The market diversification assessment underscores that while India's handicrafts sector possesses strong foundational capabilities, ranging from deep artisanal expertise and diversified regional clusters to a broad product portfolio, its export growth trajectory remains constrained by high dependence on a limited set of traditional markets. This concentration not only exposes the sector to external demand shocks and policy uncertainties but also limits the scope for value realisation and sustained expansion. At the same time, the analysis demonstrates that several emerging and non-traditional markets exhibit product demand patterns that align well with India's established strengths in furniture, toys, textiles, lighting, tableware, jewellery, and decorative articles.

The identification of 18 priority diversification markets through a structured and criteria-driven framework provides a focused and evidence-based pathway for reorienting export strategies. By examining the top imported handicraft product categories across these markets and mapping them against India's export capabilities, the study establishes a clear foundation for targeted engagement rather than broad-based, resource-diffused promotion. The recurring presence of specific product segments across multiple markets further indicates scalable opportunities, provided that India can address issues related to quality consistency, compliance readiness, logistics efficiency, and brand positioning.

Market diversification is expected to generate multiplier effects beyond export value growth, particularly in terms of employment generation and regional economic development. The handicrafts sector is inherently labour-intensive and geographically dispersed, with significant participation of artisans, women workers, and MSMEs across rural and semi-urban clusters. Expansion into new and emerging markets can stimulate incremental production demand, enhance order stability, and support year-round utilisation of artisan capacities. This, in turn, can contribute to sustained livelihood generation, reduced income volatility, and greater inclusion of traditional craft clusters in formal export value chains. By broadening the export base and reducing concentration risks, market diversification can thus simultaneously strengthen India's export resilience and deepen the socio-economic impact of the handicrafts sector.

Ultimately, the findings suggest that market diversification must be approached not merely as geographic expansion, but as a coordinated strategic shift encompassing product-market alignment, institutional facilitation, exporter readiness, and ecosystem-level strengthening. With focused engagement in the identified priority markets, improved utilisation of trade agreements, enhanced design and branding efforts, and strengthened supply-side competitiveness, India can progressively reduce concentration risks and build a more resilient, value-driven, and diversified handicrafts export portfolio over the medium to long term.

1. EPCH Background

The Export Promotion Council for Handicrafts (EPCH) is the apex body representing India's handicraft exporters, working under the aegis of the Ministry of Textiles, Government of India. Established as a Section 8, non-profit organisation, EPCH serves as the nodal agency for promoting, supporting, and facilitating the export of Indian handicrafts across global markets. EPCH's core objective is to cement India as a reliable and competitive supplier of high-quality handicraft products. It represents a vibrant network of over 9,200 member exporters from diverse craft clusters across India. The Council plays a pivotal role in creating an enabling ecosystem for handicrafts exporters, from policy advocacy and trade facilitation to capacity building and market development.

The Indian handicraft sector is integral to the nation's economy, not only for its cultural heritage but also as a key source of employment. The sector includes diverse artisanal products such as art metalware, woodware, hand-printed textiles, embroidered goods, pottery, and more. Handicrafts contribute significantly to India's export economy, with exports reaching Rs. 33,123 crores in FY 2024-25. Handicrafts is a labor-intensive sector that employs millions of artisans, exporters, and other stakeholders in the country which includes a large number of women and people belonging to the weaker sections of the society in rural areas.

Beyond its core mandate of promoting Indian handicrafts, EPCH has played a pivotal role in building world-class sector infrastructure and support ecosystems. This includes the development of the India Expo Centre & Mart in Greater Noida, along with a network of Common Facility Centres, Resource Centres, Testing Laboratories, and Trade Facilitation Centres that collectively strengthen production, quality assurance, and market access for the handicrafts sector. These facilities strengthen quality compliance, design innovation, and buyer-seller linkages, helping Indian artisans and MSMEs integrate seamlessly into global value chains.

Through its flagship events such as the IHGF Delhi Fair, one of the world's largest and most trusted sourcing shows for handicrafts, EPCH provides an unparalleled platform for Indian exporters to connect with international buyers, designers, and trend forecasters. The Council also undertakes research, training, certification, and sustainability related initiatives to align the sector with emerging market trends and global standards.

Operating as an industry-led and government-supported institution, EPCH continues to be the driving force behind India's handicrafts export growth, ensuring that the sector remains globally competitive while preserving its traditional craftsmanship and cultural legacy.

Within this broader institutional context, the present analysis is positioned as a focused, market-led input to support EPCH's ongoing efforts toward export diversification and strategic deepening across priority international markets. The report examines selected global markets through a structured trade lens, assessing import demand patterns, key supplying countries, and product-wise dynamics across major handicraft segments. The analysis is designed to inform evidence-based market prioritisation and support calibrated export expansion aligned with EPCH's mandate of strengthening global competitiveness while ensuring inclusive growth for artisans and exporters.

By translating granular trade insights into strategic implications, the report aims to support evidence-based decision-making for market prioritisation and institutional interventions. It is intended to function as a standalone analytical document that complements EPCH's strategic roadmap, providing actionable intelligence to guide exporters, policymakers, and the Council's leadership in navigating an increasingly competitive and complex global handicrafts market.

2. Global Handicrafts Trade

Global trade in handicrafts is shaped by lifestyle consumption, gifting behaviour, and home décor demand, making it inherently linked to discretionary spending and retail trends. Import demand is unevenly distributed across regions, with a limited number of economies accounting for a large share of global consumption, while sourcing remains concentrated among a small set of supplier countries.

Within this structure, supplier competitiveness is determined not only by cost, but also by scale, design capability, supply-chain reliability, and sustained buyer engagement. Countries that have successfully integrated these elements continue to dominate global sourcing across multiple handicraft product categories.

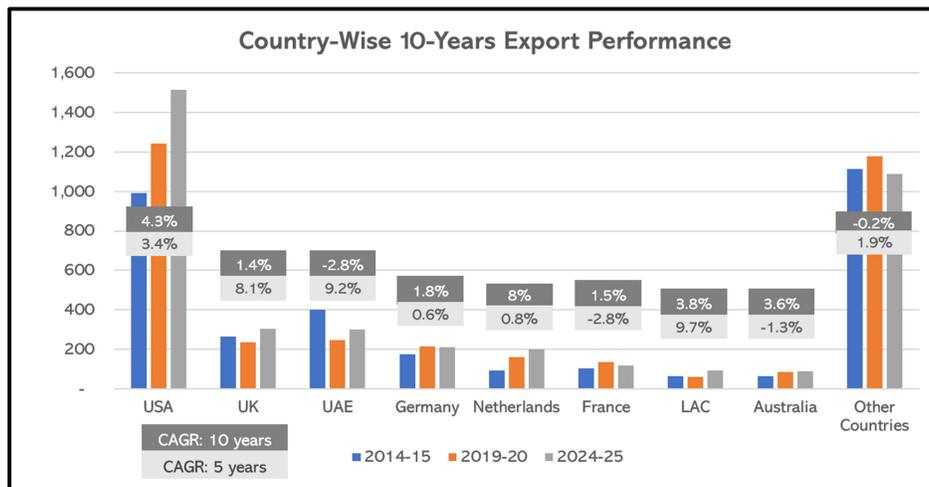

Figure 2 Global Context: Indian handicrafts exports remain concentrated in a few traditional markets, with limited value growth over the last five years. Emerging regions show early growth signals, reinforcing the strategic imperative for market diversification.

India occupies a distinctive position within the global handicrafts ecosystem. It is among the most diversified producers globally, with strengths spanning woodwares, art metalware, textiles, hand-printed fabrics, imitation jewellery, and a wide range of miscellaneous craft products.

However, India's export presence remains uneven across global markets. While the country maintains strong linkages with established destinations, its penetration into several emerging markets remains limited. As a result, export performance is closely tied to conditions in a small set of mature economies.

3. Five-Year Export Performance Analysis

An analysis of export performance over the last five years provides insight into how India's handicrafts exports have evolved within the existing market structure.

I. Export Performance in USD Terms

In nominal USD terms, Indian handicrafts exports have recorded modest growth over the five-year period, accompanied by year-to-year fluctuations.

The trend indicates that while India has retained its presence across major destination markets, incremental gains in export value have been constrained. Periods of stagnation and volatility reflect sensitivity to global demand conditions, particularly in mature markets that account for a large share of exports.

II. Export Performance in INR Terms

When viewed in INR terms, export performance appears comparatively stronger.

The divergence between INR and USD performance underscores an important analytical distinction. Growth observed in domestic currency terms is influenced by exchange rate movements and does not necessarily translate into increased global market share or competitiveness.

III. Implications from Performance Trends

Taken together, the five-year performance trends suggest that:

- Sustained export presence in traditional markets has not resulted in proportionate value growth.
- Incremental expansion within existing destinations is becoming increasingly challenging.

In nominal USD terms, India's handicrafts exports have exhibited limited expansion over the past five years, with year-to-year fluctuations reflecting sensitivity to global demand conditions, inflationary pressures, and changes in consumer spending across key markets.

4. Top 10 Export Markets for Indian Handicrafts

India's handicrafts exports are characterised by a high degree of market concentration, with a small number of destinations accounting for a disproportionate share of total export value. While these markets have historically provided scale and stability, such concentration also increases exposure to demand-side shocks, policy changes, and cyclical downturns in a limited set of economies.

Figure 3 India's Top Export Destinations: Handicrafts exports remain concentrated in a limited set of markets, with the U.S. retaining dominance despite recent moderation, while select destinations show varied short-term movements and divergent five-year growth

The United States remains the largest export destination, followed by a cluster of developed markets in Europe and Asia, including the United Kingdom, Germany, France, Japan, and Switzerland. In addition, the United Arab Emirates has emerged as a significant destination, reflecting strong demand for gifting, lifestyle, and décor-oriented handicrafts.

Together, these markets form the core demand base for Indian handicrafts exports. While they differ in product preferences, pricing dynamics, and compliance requirements, they share common characteristics of mature retail ecosystems and established sourcing relationships.

This concentration has enabled exporters to build long-standing buyer linkages and operational familiarity. At the same time, it has resulted in a relatively narrow geographic spread of exports, with limited contribution from non-traditional markets.

I. India's Competitive Edge in Global Handicrafts

India's sustained presence across its top export markets is underpinned by a set of structural and comparative advantages. These strengths have enabled Indian handicrafts to remain relevant across diverse product categories, price points, and market requirements - ranging from mass gifting and utility décor to premium, design-led segments.

At the core of this advantage is India's large and skilled artisan workforce, embedded within MSME-led clusters across the country. This decentralised production base provides depth, flexibility, and resilience, allowing exporters to respond to varied buyer requirements, complex design requirements, seasonal demand cycles, and small-batch customisation without compromising supply continuity.

Complementing this scale is India's deep-rooted heritage identity and craft diversity, spanning wood, metal, textiles, stone, ceramics, glass, and natural fibre-based crafts across regions. This diversity enables exporters to cater to differentiated market preferences across the U.S., Europe, the Gulf, and other traditional and emerging markets, across a wide range of product segments catering to varied market requirements.

India also benefits from a wide product range that cuts across lifestyle, décor, utility, and premium segments. This breadth allows Indian handicrafts to participate not only in discretionary consumption but also in institutional, hospitality, gifting, and seasonal retail demand, strengthening relevance even during demand slowdowns in individual segments.

Importantly, the handicrafts sector plays a strong role in women's empowerment and rural livelihoods, aligning exports with inclusive growth narratives increasingly valued by global buyers, retailers and importers. This socio-economic linkage enhances India's positioning in responsible sourcing frameworks and long-term buyer partnerships.

Finally, Indian handicrafts demonstrate strong alignment with sustainability and ESG norms, given their artisanal production processes, use of natural materials, and low-carbon footprint. As global markets place greater emphasis on traceability, ethical sourcing, and sustainability credentials, India has emerged as a preferred sustainable sourcing destination.

Together, these strengths explain why Indian handicrafts have been able to build and sustain scale in a concentrated set of mature markets. They also underscore that the case for diversification is not driven by capability constraints, but by a strategic imperative to leverage these strengths across a wider geography and reduce overexposure to a limited set of destinations.

5. Top 100 Handicraft Products Exported Worldwide and India's Positioning

Global trade in handicrafts is characterised by a high degree of product concentration, with a limited set of categories accounting for a disproportionate share of total import demand. Across the Top 100 globally traded handicraft products, demand is strongly anchored in lifestyle-oriented consumption, home improvement, gifting behaviour, and hospitality-linked procurement.

The dominant share of global handicrafts trade is accounted for by wood-based furniture and furnishings, home décor and lifestyle articles, toys and gifting products, decorative lighting, and household utility items. These categories benefit from repeat demand cycles, integration with housing and lifestyle expenditure, and consistent relevance across both developed and emerging markets.

I. Product Clusters Driving Global Handicrafts Trade

- ✚ Furniture and Woodware form the single largest product cluster within global handicrafts trade. Wooden furniture, furniture components, wood-based decorative articles, and utility items exhibit structurally stable demand driven by residential construction, hospitality expansion, and real estate development. These products command higher unit values and offer scale opportunities across markets.
- ✚ Home décor and lifestyle articles represent a substantial share of global demand, encompassing metal, glass, ceramic, and mixed-material decorative products, wall décor, sculptures, plaques, and non-electrical lighting. Demand in this segment is closely linked to aesthetic preferences, gifting culture, and design differentiation, making it a key driver of value realisation rather than volume alone.
- ✚ Toys, gifting, and recreational products, including wheeled toys, dolls, festive decorations, and seasonal gift items, feature prominently across global imports. These categories combine relatively lower production intensity with broad consumer appeal, enabling scalable exports across income segments and geographies.
- ✚ Tableware, household, and utility articles constitute another significant cluster, straddling functional consumption and lifestyle positioning. Demand in this segment is supported by hospitality, institutional buyers, and organised retail, offering steady volume-led diversification opportunities.

A smaller but strategically important segment within the Top 100 consists of art-led and premium handicrafts, such as paintings, sculptures, statuary, and heritage collectibles. While these products account for lower volumes, they play a disproportionate role in premium positioning, branding, and value enhancement.

II. Competitive Landscape

Global supply of the Top 100 handicraft products is dominated by a limited set of supplier countries. China and Vietnam leverage scale, cost efficiency, and integrated supply chains, while European producers maintain leadership in premium and design-led segments. Several emerging suppliers benefit from regional trade agreements and logistics advantages.

Within this landscape, India's competitiveness lies in product diversity, artisanal depth, and flexibility across multiple product clusters, rather than mass industrial replication.

III. India's Export Positioning

India already participates across a broad range of the Top 100 globally traded handicraft products, particularly in woodwares and furniture, home décor and lifestyle articles, made-up textiles and home furnishings, metal handicrafts and jewellery, and utility-oriented gifting products. However, India's export presence across these categories remains unevenly distributed across markets, with high dependence on a limited set of traditional destinations.

This indicates that constraints to export growth are driven more by market concentration, access, and positioning, rather than limitations in production capability or product range.

IV. Strategic Implications

The Top 100 product landscape reinforces that global handicrafts demand is structurally concentrated and predictable, allowing diversification to be anchored in established product clusters. India's existing export strengths already align with the bulk of global demand, reducing the need for capability expansion and enabling diversification to focus on re-orienting proven product strengths toward new and under-penetrated markets.

This insight underpins the subsequent narrowing of focus to India's Top 20 exportable handicraft products, which serve as the operational anchor for country-level market prioritisation and diversification strategy.

6. Market Diversification Blueprint

I. Rationale for Market Diversification

India's handicrafts exports have historically been concentrated in a limited number of traditional markets. While these destinations have provided scale and continuity, such concentration has increased exposure to external risks and constrained long-term growth.

High dependence on a narrow market base amplifies vulnerability to sudden tariff actions, policy shifts, and geopolitical developments that can disrupt established trade flows. This risk is particularly pronounced for handicrafts, which fall largely under discretionary consumption and are therefore more sensitive to economic slowdowns and shifts in consumer sentiment.

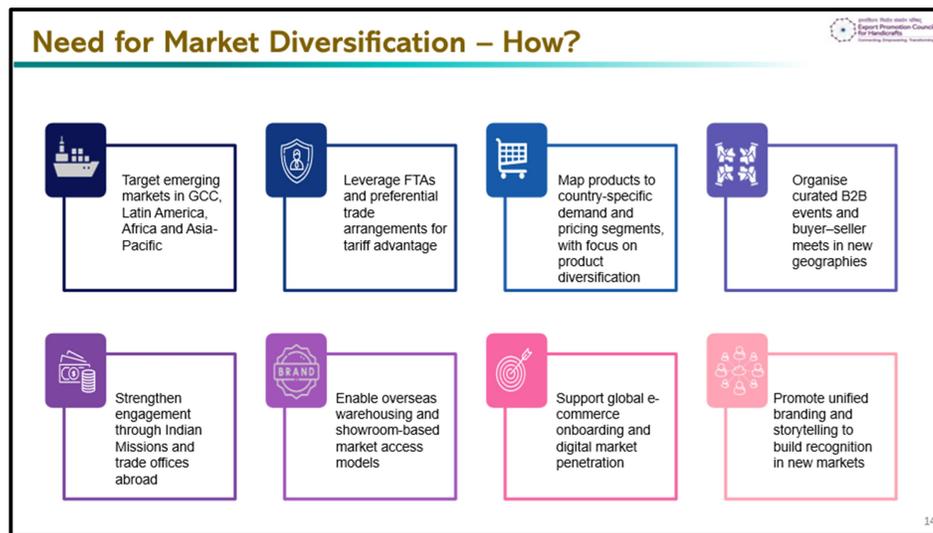

Market concentration also limits value realisation. Restricted exposure to diverse consumer segments constrains product innovation, design adaptation, and progression toward premium positioning. In contrast, competing supplier countries increasingly benefit from scale efficiencies, integrated supply chains, and tariff advantages in specific markets, enabling them to consolidate or expand market share.

From a sectoral perspective, sustained income stability for artisans depends on consistent and diversified demand. A broader market base reduces volatility, supports year-round order flows, and enhances resilience across production clusters. Market diversification is therefore not only a trade imperative but a foundational requirement for sustainable development of the handicrafts ecosystem.

II. Strategic Approach to Market Diversification

Effective diversification requires a targeted and structured approach rather than broad-based market outreach. The strategy must be anchored in demand realities while remaining operationally feasible for exporters and artisans.

III. Strategic Framework for Market Shortlisting

The identification of priority markets for handicrafts export diversification was undertaken through a structured, policy-aligned, and execution-oriented framework. The objective was not to generate an exhaustive list of potential markets, but to systematically narrow the global opportunity set to a focused group of countries where India can realistically scale exports over the medium term, while mitigating concentration risk and leveraging existing strengths.

The framework reflects current global trade realities, India’s evolving trade policy environment, and the operational constraints of the handicrafts ecosystem. It is designed as a funnel-based prioritisation exercise, ensuring that strategic intent is balanced with feasibility and readiness.

1. Market Reorientation with “40-Country Market Diversification Strategy”

The framework is anchored in the evolving global trade environment and recent policy developments impacting Indian exports. In particular, the initiative of 40-Country Market Diversification Strategy by the Ministry of Textiles aimed at mitigating the impact of tariff actions and demand disruptions in traditional markets, provided the immediate strategic trigger for market re-orientation. Detailed list of the countries under 40-Country Market Diversification Strategy is given in the annexure-I. 16 countries have been selected from this list, while 2 additional countries, Argentina and Oman, have been included as they are emerging markets.

Given the heightened exposure of handicrafts exports to discretionary demand cycles, tariff shocks, and geopolitical uncertainty, diversification was approached as a risk mitigation and resilience-building imperative, rather than a purely growth-driven exercise.

2. Exclusion of Traditional Export Markets

As a first filter, traditional export destinations where Indian handicrafts already demonstrate deep and stable penetration, such as the United States and select EU markets were largely excluded from the diversification universe. The rationale was to avoid incremental analysis of saturated markets and to redirect strategic focus toward under-penetrated and emerging destinations that can deliver incremental growth.

Select mature markets were retained only where new or evolving trade frameworks, such as recently concluded or forthcoming free trade agreements, create fresh product-level opportunities that materially alter market access conditions. The United Kingdom, for instance, was retained on this basis.

3. Trade Agreement and Market Access Filter

The next layer of screening prioritised countries with:

- Existing free trade agreements with India
- FTAs signed and pending ratification
- Ongoing FTA or preferential trade negotiations

This filter recognises the central role of preferential market access in enhancing tariff competitiveness, reducing entry barriers, and enabling faster export scaling - particularly for price-sensitive handicraft products. Markets offering predictable and improving trade regimes were therefore prioritised over structurally attractive but policy-opaque destinations.

4. Emerging Market Demand Assessment

Markets passing the trade-access filter were further evaluated for structural demand potential, with emphasis on regions exhibiting:

- Rising middle-class populations
- Increasing urbanisation and lifestyle consumption
- Growing demand for home décor, gifting, and lifestyle products

This led to focused attention on select markets across Latin America, Africa, the Middle East, and the Asia-Pacific region, where consumption patterns are evolving and competitive intensity from traditional suppliers remains comparatively moderate.

5. Demand-Capability Alignment Overlay

To ensure that diversification remains grounded in India's existing strengths, shortlisted markets were assessed through a demand-capability alignment lens. This involved mapping:

- Each country's top imported handicraft product categories
- India's exports to those markets
- India's Top 20 globally exported handicraft products (identified at the 6-digit HS level)

This overlay ensured that prioritised markets demonstrate clear overlap between import demand and India's established production capabilities, thereby reducing execution risk and avoiding capability overstretch.

6. Export Readiness and Scalability Check

The final screening layer assessed India's export readiness for each shortlisted market, factoring in:

- Cost competitiveness
- Production depth and cluster-level scalability
- Ability to supply home décor and lifestyle handicrafts reliably at scale
- Compliance, sustainability, and quality alignment with market requirements

Markets where India can scale exports with minimal structural disruption were prioritised over those requiring significant capability build-up.

Outcome of the Framework

This funnel-based approach resulted in the identification of a focused set of priority diversification markets with the highest potential to support sustainable, resilient, and scalable growth of India's handicrafts exports. The shortlisted markets collectively balance:

- Policy-enabled market access
- Demonstrated demand for handicraft products

- Strong alignment with India's export strengths
- Practical feasibility for exporters and artisans

These markets form the basis for the subsequent country-specific analyses, which translate the framework into targeted opportunity assessments and actionable diversification pathways.

7. Disclaimer/ Methodological Note

The analysis presented in this report is indicative and directional in nature and is intended to serve as a high-level strategic assessment of potential export diversification markets for Indian handicrafts. The findings should not be interpreted as a definitive market forecast or as a substitute for detailed commercial due diligence, buyer validation, or product-level feasibility assessments.

For the purpose of ensuring cross-country comparability and consistency, global trade analysis has been undertaken at the 6-digit Harmonised System (HS) level, which represents the highest level of standardised international classification. Whereas, India's handicrafts export data is captured and monitored at the more granular 8-digit ITC-HS level.

This exercise has been undertaken as a screening and shortlisting tool to identify potential new and under-tapped markets for Indian handicrafts exports. The objective is to narrow the universe of global markets to a focused set of priority countries that merit deeper, country-specific analysis. The results are therefore intended to inform strategic direction and policy prioritisation, rather than prescribe immediate market entry decisions.

The analysis relies on secondary trade data, and does not explicitly account for qualitative factors such as buyer behaviour, brand positioning, regulatory nuances beyond tariff structures, logistics constraints, or firm-specific capabilities. These elements would need to be assessed separately as part of subsequent, market-specific engagement and exporter-level planning.

The underlying trade data used for this analysis has been sourced from the ITC Trade Map database, which is a widely used international reference for comparative trade analysis. While all reasonable care has been taken to ensure accuracy and consistency, the findings are subject to the inherent limitations of reported trade statistics, including reporting lags, aggregation effects, and classification practices across countries.

The UK's top imported handicraft products categories include:

- Wheeled toys, dolls, and recreational models
- Wooden furniture (other than office, kitchen, and bedroom)
- Paintings and drawings
- Wooden bedroom furniture
- Parts of wooden furniture

These categories indicate a strong bias toward lifestyle-driven consumption, home improvement, gifting, and art-linked décor segments.

India - UK Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

A comparison of the UK's top handicraft imports with India's export basket highlights clear areas of demand alignment, alongside identifiable gaps.

Three categories wheeled toys and dolls, wooden furniture (other than office/kitchen/bedroom), and made-up textile articles, overlap between the UK's top global imports and India's Top 20 handicraft exports, signalling established demand familiarity and scope for scale-up.

At the same time, categories such as paintings and drawings, wooden bedroom furniture, furniture parts, decorative lighting, sculptures, and heritage collectibles feature prominently in the UK's import profile but remain relatively under-represented in India's current exports to the UK. This gap points to diversification opportunities into higher-value, design-led, and art-centric sub-segments aligned with UK consumer preferences.

India's current share in UK handicraft imports is estimated at approximately 3%, underscoring substantial untapped potential in a market that already demonstrates strong receptivity to Indian craftsmanship.

Recommendations for Diversification

India - UK FTA Readiness and Diaspora-Driven Demand

Prepare exporters to leverage the forthcoming India - UK FTA by prioritising product categories expected to benefit from duty reductions, while strengthening buyer relationships through offerings tailored to the UK's large Indian diaspora and gifting-oriented consumption patterns.

Integrated Design Collaboration for Market Alignment

Promote collaboration with UK-based designers, studios, and creative collectives to align Indian handicrafts with British design sensibilities, functional standards, material preferences, and regulatory requirements from the concept stage onward.

UK-Based Distribution and Showroom Strategy

Encourage the development of UK-based warehousing and showroom infrastructure to support faster replenishment cycles, improve delivery timelines, and enable online-first and omnichannel retail models, enhancing buyer confidence and repeat ordering.

Strategic Collaboration with Retailers and Lifestyle Brands

Facilitate partnerships with UK heritage retailers and boutique lifestyle brands to co-develop product lines, improve market visibility, and deepen penetration within the UK's design-led retail ecosystem.

India - Switzerland Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

Analysis indicates three key areas of overlap between Switzerland’s top global handicraft imports and India’s export strengths: wooden furniture, wheeled toys, and made-up textile articles, confirming underlying demand alignment. India’s current exports to Switzerland are primarily concentrated in furniture, home textiles, imitation jewellery, and attars, signalling acceptance of India as a lifestyle handicrafts supplier.

However, several high-value categories - such as paintings, sculptures, lighting fixtures, and furniture components - remain under-represented in India’s export basket, despite strong import demand from Switzerland. This mismatch highlights clear diversification headroom, particularly in art-led décor and premium design segments, where India possesses latent craft capability but limited market presence.

Recommendations

✚ Switzerland as a Strategic Entry Point for Value-Led European Exports

Position Switzerland as a priority market for premium and design-oriented Indian handicrafts, leveraging its buyer credibility, re-export linkages, and influence across European art and lifestyle markets under the EFTA framework.

✚ Integrated Design Collaboration for Market Alignment

Encourage collaboration between Indian exporters and Swiss designers, galleries, and design studios at the product development stage to align craftsmanship with Swiss expectations on aesthetics, quality standards, and pricing logic.

 Strategic Retail and Brand Partnerships

Pursue partnerships with Swiss boutique lifestyle brands and curated retail platforms to enable differentiated product positioning, limited-edition collections, and deeper penetration into Switzerland’s design-led retail ecosystem.

 “Handmade in India” as Sustainable by Default

Strengthen India’s positioning by embedding traceability, natural materials, and ethical sourcing as baseline attributes, recognising that sustainability in Switzerland functions as an entry requirement rather than a marketing differentiator.

India - Australia Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

There is strong demand - supply alignment between Australia’s top imported handicraft products and India’s existing export strengths. Five major categories overlap with India’s top export basket, including wheeled toys, wooden furniture, made-up textile articles, home furnishings, and imitation jewellery.

India already supplies Australia across home décor, lifestyle, and gifting segments, demonstrating buyer confidence and operational compatibility. However, several high-value categories such as wooden bedroom furniture, lighting fixtures, furniture components, packaging articles, and textile headgear feature prominently in Australia’s global imports but remain relatively under-penetrated by Indian exports.

This gap highlights clear scope for product mix expansion within familiar categories, allowing India to deepen presence without requiring fundamental capability shifts.

Recommendations

- ✚ Leverage ECTA-led Market Access: Position Australia as a priority FTA-enabled market for scaling home, décor, and lifestyle handicraft exports.
- ✚ Strengthen Institutional and Network Linkages: Facilitate importer discovery through India - Australia business networks and distributor platforms.
- ✚ Target Category Expansion within Existing Strengths: Encourage exporters to broaden offerings in furniture sub-categories, lighting, packaging, and lifestyle accessories where demand exists but sourcing from India remains limited.
- ✚ Support Vendor and Design Readiness: Enable channel-specific vendor development and selective design collaboration aligned with Australia's sustainability and quality expectations.
- ✚ Improve Logistics and Shipping Efficiency: Streamline shipping routes and transit connectivity to improve delivery timelines and supply reliability.

- ❖ India's total exports to South Korea- $ 5.81 Bn
- ❖ India's total imports from South Korea- $ 21.06 Bn

South Korea's handicrafts imports stood at approximately USD 5.8 billion in 2024, reflecting a high-income, design-conscious consumer base with strong demand for lifestyle, home décor, gifting, and utility-led craft products across organised retail and fast-growing e-commerce channels. Import sourcing is dominated by China, Vietnam, the USA, Italy, and Japan, while India currently ranks 11th, indicating a visible but under-scaled presence.

- ❖ Top 10 Importing Countries to South Korea in Handicrafts: China, Vietnam, USA, Italy, Japan, Thailand, Germany, Indonesia, UAE, India
- ❖ From a market-access perspective, the India-South Korea CEPA, in force since 2010, provides a relatively predictable tariff and regulatory environment for Indian exporters. Beyond trade architecture, South Korea is structurally attractive because its affluent consumers value craftsmanship, aesthetics, and sustainability, and its strong lifestyle retail and e-commerce ecosystem enables scalable entry for niche and premium Indian handicraft products.

Details of the India's handicrafts exports (@ 8-digit level) to South Korea are attached in Annexure-6

Product Demand Profile

South Korea's handicraft import demand reflects a broad lifestyle-oriented basket, anchored by woodwares and a large miscellaneous handicrafts segment, with meaningful demand for textiles, artmetal ware, home furnishings, and décor-led products. Key imported categories include:

- Wheeled toys, dolls, and recreational models
- Plastic packaging boxes and cases

- Made-up textile articles
- Hand-executed paintings and drawings
- Glass decorative articles

This demand profile spans functional lifestyle consumption, gifting, and selective art-led décor, creating scope for both volume expansion in proven categories and premium positioning in design-forward segments.

India-South Korea Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India's share in South Korea's handicrafts imports remains modest (around 1%), despite long-standing CEPA coverage. This suggests that the opportunity lies not in market access alone, but in sharper category prioritisation and execution.

There is clear alignment between South Korea's top imported categories and India's established export strengths, particularly in made-up textiles, home furnishings, packaging articles, artware, and decorative products. India's current supplier ranking indicates buyer familiarity with Indian products, but also highlights under-penetration relative to market size.

High-demand segments such as toys, glass décor, and adjacent lifestyle categories offer diversification headroom, where Indian exporters can expand their product mix and scale exports beyond the current concentration.

Recommendations for Diversification

✚ CEPA-Linked Scale-Up

The India-South Korea CEPA should be treated as the primary enabler for accelerated market scaling. Export strategies should align South Korea-focused sales pipelines with CEPA market-access provisions, enabling exporters to secure medium-term channel partnerships anchored in predictable and stable import-duty outcomes.

✚ Shipping and Logistics Facilitation

Support may be considered for strengthening shipping connectivity and consolidation options to South Korea, including facilitation through regional East Asia trans-shipment hubs. Engagement with Korea-focused and Northeast Asia-focused logistics providers can help reduce transit time, improve reliability, and support scalable export operations.

✚ Product-Market Fit Alignment

Indian exporters should develop products aligned to South Korean market preferences in key segments such as home décor, jewellery, table and household articles, made-up textiles, and furniture and decorative items. Emphasis should be placed on clean design, functionality, compact formats, and quality finishes suited to urban living and lifestyle retail formats.

✚ Integrated Design Collaboration and Market Alignment

South Korea places strong emphasis on contemporary design, craftsmanship, and functional aesthetics. Targeted collaboration with South Korean designers, retail curators, and lifestyle brands can support adaptation of Indian handicrafts to local tastes, improve market acceptance, and strengthen positioning in premium and design-led segments.

The United Arab Emirates represents a high-value handicrafts market with imports of approximately USD 4.3 billion in 2024, functioning both as a consumption market and a regional re-export hub. The India - UAE Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA), effective since February 2022, has significantly lowered trade barriers and strengthened institutional trade linkages.

India already ranks among the top importing partners for UAE handicrafts, reflecting strong historical ties, a large Indian diaspora, and buyer familiarity with Indian products. Demand is closely linked to premium retail, hospitality, real estate fit-outs, and tourism-led consumption, positioning the UAE as a strategic anchor market for diversification within the Middle East.

The top imported categories include:

- Paintings & drawings
- Wheeled toys and dolls
- Wooden furniture (excluding office/kitchen/bedroom)
- Imitation jewellery and parts
- Wooden bedroom furniture

This profile highlights strong demand across home décor, gifting, lifestyle, and art-led segments, with particular emphasis on visually rich, premium, and hospitality-oriented products.

India - UAE Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India accounts for approximately 7% of UAE's handicrafts imports, indicating a relatively strong existing foothold compared to other diversification markets.

There is significant overlap (six categories) between UAE's top global imports and India's Top 20 handicraft exports, notably in:

- Paper & paperboard decorative articles
- Made-up textile articles
- Bedding, cushions and home furnishings
- Wooden furniture
- Jewellery and metal handicrafts

While India already supplies a broad and diversified basket to the UAE, certain high-demand categories - such as wooden bedroom furniture, decorative electric lighting fixtures, imitation jewellery, and furniture parts - remain under-supplied from India, indicating immediate headroom for diversification within familiar product domains rather than category expansion.

Recommendations

- ✚ Leverage CEPA-enabled market access by prioritising duty-advantaged product segments and strengthening buyer relationships through India-focused assortments catering to diaspora and regional tastes.
- ✚ Adopt a UAE-based distribution and showroom strategy to support faster replenishment, e-commerce fulfilment, and hospitality procurement cycles, improving delivery reliability and repeat ordering.
- ✚ Target large-scale hospitality and real estate ecosystems, including hotels, serviced apartments, restaurants, and villas, by developing project-ready catalogues and engaging fit-out contractors and procurement consultants.
- ✚ Position the UAE as a re-export platform by partnering with distributors and free-zone entities to access wider GCC and African markets, leveraging consolidated logistics and regional buyer aggregation.

- ❖ From a trade architecture perspective, the India-Singapore Comprehensive Economic Cooperation Agreement (CECA), in force since 2005, provides a stable and liberalised framework for market access. Beyond direct consumption, Singapore’s importance lies in its function as a gateway market, supported by sophisticated logistics, warehousing, and distribution infrastructure that enables onward access to ASEAN markets. High purchasing power, strong lifestyle retail, and a significant Indian diaspora further reinforce Singapore’s strategic relevance for premium and contemporary Indian handicrafts.

Details of the India’s handicrafts exports (@ 8-digit level) to Singapore are attached in Annexure-8

Product Demand Profile

Singapore’s handicraft import demand is heavily concentrated in miscellaneous handicrafts, reflecting its role as a trading and redistribution hub, with additional demand across woodwares, artmetal ware, jewellery, and select textile-based products. Key imported handicraft categories include:

- Table, kitchen, and household articles
- Wheeled toys and dolls
- Non-electrical lamps and lighting fixtures
- Wooden furniture (other than office, kitchen, and bedroom)
- Porcelain tableware and kitchenware

The demand profile is characterised by contemporary aesthetics, premium finishes, and giftable lifestyle formats, catering to urban households, hospitality, and design-oriented retail environments. This creates scope for both scaling functional lifestyle products and positioning higher-value, design-led craft offerings.

India-Singapore Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India's share in Singapore's handicrafts imports remains modest (around 1%), despite the long-standing CECA framework. However, analysis indicates strong alignment between Singapore's import demand and India's global export strengths.

A significant number of Singapore's top imported handicraft categories overlap with India's Top 20 globally exported products, including hand-executed paintings and drawings, glass decorative articles, wheeled toys, wooden furniture, leather accessories, imitation jewellery, packaging articles, and paper-based décor. India already supplies a diversified but low-volume basket to Singapore, indicating buyer acceptance without scale.

Notably, wheeled toys, dolls, and recreational models rank among Singapore’s top imported products but remain under-represented in India’s export basket to the market, representing a clear and immediate diversification opportunity. Additional headroom exists in premium décor, tabletop articles, lighting, and visually expressive lifestyle products aligned with Singapore’s retail and hospitality demand.

Recommendations for Diversification

✚ CECA-Linked Scale-Up

The India-Singapore CECA should be leveraged as the primary enabler for accelerated market scaling by aligning Singapore-focused export strategies with India’s established product strengths and ensuring consistent utilisation of liberal market-access provisions.

✚ Integrated Design Collaboration and Market Alignment

Singapore values contemporary, premium, and visually expressive lifestyle products. Emphasis should be placed on home décor, lighting, tabletop articles, and giftable handicrafts, adapted to local tastes through collaboration with Singaporean designers, retail curators, and lifestyle brands to improve acceptance in design-led retail formats.

✚ Singapore as a Strategic Gateway to Southeast Asia

Singapore should be positioned as a regional commercial gateway, leveraging local distributors, warehousing, and fulfilment infrastructure to access neighbouring markets such as Malaysia, Indonesia, Vietnam, and the Philippines, enabling regional scale through a single market-entry point.

✚ “Handmade in India” as Sustainable by Default

Indian handicrafts should be positioned as inherently sustainable, with traceability, natural materials, and ethical sourcing embedded as baseline compliance rather than marketing add-ons. In the Singapore market, sustainability functions as an entry criterion, particularly for premium retailers and institutional buyers.

- ❖ India's trade with Russia - $ 68.7 Bn
- ❖ India's total exports to Russia - $ 4.88 Bn
- ❖ India's total imports from Russia- $ 63.81 Bn

Russia's handicrafts imports stood at approximately USD 3.6 billion in 2024, positioning it as a moderate-sized but structurally evolving market. Since the onset of the Ukraine conflict in 2022, sanctions and reduced Western exports have reshaped Russia's sourcing landscape, creating sustained gaps across consumer and lifestyle segments. In response, Russia has increasingly diversified imports towards non-Western suppliers, with India emerging as a relevant sourcing partner.

Trade engagement is supported by both countries actively pursuing the Eurasian Economic Union (EAEU) framework, alongside the rupee -rouble Special Vostro Account mechanism, which provides an alternative payment channel and partially mitigates currency and settlement risks. This combination makes Russia a structural diversification opportunity rather than a short-term tactical market.

At the product level, Russia's top imported handicrafts include wheeled toys and dolls, decorative electric lighting fixtures, porcelain and china tableware, hats and textile headgear, and Christmas decorative articles. The overall demand profile reflects durability, household utility, winter-use suitability, and seasonal décor, rather than design-led or luxury-driven consumption.

India -Russia Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India's current share in Russia's handicrafts imports is approximately 1.8%, with exports concentrated in attars, paper and paperboard decorative articles, metal handicrafts, imitation jewellery, agarbatti and incense products, carved articles, glass decorative articles, furniture, and wheeled toys.

There are four overlapping categories between Russia's top global handicraft imports and India's Top 20 exported handicraft products, indicating moderate demand alignment. While India has an established presence across select lifestyle and utility categories, several high-volume Russian import segments remain under-represented in India's exports. These include decorative electric lighting fixtures, porcelain and china tableware, home furnishings, and glass tableware.

This gap highlights clear scope for diversification, particularly by expanding India's exports into lamps and decorative lighting, tableware and utensils, home furnishings, wooden furniture, and seasonal décor categories, aligned with Russia’s functional and climate-driven consumption patterns.

Recommendations

✚ “Sanctions-Resilient” Market Opportunity Positioning

With reduced Western sourcing, Russia is actively diversifying imports toward Asia. India can position itself as a reliable, politically neutral supplier, supported by the Vostro account mechanism for ease of payment. This represents a structural import substitution window rather than a short-term opportunity.

✚ Integrated Design Collaboration and Concept Alignment

Russia prioritizes utility and longevity over purely decorative craft. Indian exporters should emphasize winter use-cases such as lighting, woollens, and toys by collaborating with Russian designers and experts.

✚ Strategic Product Alignment

India’s Russia strategy should focus on high-volume sectors such as wooden products, eco-toys and dolls, chandeliers and lighting, and porcelain and tableware, repositioning Indian handicrafts as functional, durable, and seasonally essential goods aligned with Russian market requirements.

Saudi Arabia's handicraft imports are dominated by wooden furniture, decorative collages and plaques, bedroom furniture, imitation jewellery, wheeled toys, bedding and home furnishings, and decorative lighting. Demand is closely linked to residential construction, hospitality expansion, weddings, festive gifting (Ramadan/Eid), and large-scale real estate and tourism developments.

The product mix reflects a preference for premium yet functional décor, culturally resonant gifting items, and durable home-use products aligned with modern Saudi lifestyles.

India -Saudi Arabia Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

Approximately 5 of Saudi Arabia's top 10 handicraft import categories overlap with India's Top 20 globally exported handicraft products, providing a strong base for market-specific scaling. Existing overlap enables India to expand volumes in proven categories while re-orienting product design and positioning toward Saudi preferences.

Despite this alignment, certain categories -Decorative Collages & Plaques and Articles of Bedding, Cushions & Home Furnishings -remain relatively under-penetrated by Indian exporters despite featuring prominently in Saudi Arabia's import basket. Additional Saudi-specific import categories further highlight clear diversification headroom, allowing Indian exporters to broaden their offering and capture unmet demand across home décor, gifting, and hospitality-linked segments.

Recommendations

Diaspora-Focused Distribution

Design products tailored to large-scale Indian diaspora needs (home décor, puja items, festive furnishings) and leverage community retailers and ethnic outlets to build initial traction, converting demand into mainstream retail engagement.

Product Match: Home + Gifting + Hospitality

Align India's offer with Saudi demand clusters -woodwares, home décor, artmetal décor/serveware, lighting, bedding and home furnishings, and giftables for Ramadan/Eid and weddings -through 2 -3 “Saudi-ready” collections.

Market Access Enhancement

Strengthen linkages through participation in Saudi trade fairs and buyer -seller meets, complemented by inviting priority Saudi buyers to India for structured reverse BSMs.

Brand Co-Creation through Collaboration

Support brand co-creation initiatives with Saudi retailers, developers, and lifestyle platforms to position “Handmade in India” as a mark of authenticity, craftsmanship, and quality within premium home, gifting, and hospitality segments.

- ❖ India's trade with Thailand- $ 19.07 Bn
- ❖ India's total exports to Thailand - $ 4.81 Bn
- ❖ India's total imports from Thailand- $ 14.26 Bn

Thailand's handicrafts imports were valued at approximately USD 2.8 billion in 2024, reflecting a large, diversified, and consumption-driven market with strong demand for décor, lifestyle, gifting, and utility-oriented handicraft products. Import sourcing is led by China, Japan, Italy, Hong Kong, and the USA, while India ranks around 8th, indicating a relatively strong and established market presence.

From a trade architecture perspective, India-Thailand trade is covered under the India-ASEAN Free Trade Agreement, providing tariff preferences and facilitating regional market access. Thailand's strategic relevance extends beyond domestic consumption; its well-developed retail ecosystem, strong tourism-linked demand, and re-export capabilities position it as a key entry point into the wider ASEAN market. These structural characteristics make Thailand an important scale market for Indian handicrafts within Southeast Asia.

Details of the India's handicrafts exports (@ 8-digit level) to Thailand are attached in Annexure-11

Product Demand Profile

Thailand's handicraft import demand is anchored in miscellaneous handicrafts, with significant shares across imitation jewellery, woodwares, artmetal ware, and textiles. Demand spans both decorative and functional categories, reflecting Thailand's strong lifestyle retail, hospitality, and tourism sectors. Key imported handicraft categories include:

- Articles of jewellery
- Copper handicraft articles
- Plastic packaging boxes and cases
- Wheeled toys, dolls, and recreational models
- Ceramic articles (non-porcelain)

The demand profile highlights Thailand’s preference for functional lifestyle products with refined aesthetics, supported by steady consumption from households, hospitality, and tourism-linked retail formats.

India-Thailand Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India’s share in Thailand’s handicrafts imports is estimated at around 2%, indicating a meaningful foothold in the market. A strong overlap exists between Thailand’s top imported handicraft categories and India’s Top 20 globally exported products, including jewellery and articles, copper handicrafts, plastic packaging, toys, ceramics, made-up textiles, paper-based décor, and wooden furniture.

This alignment enables India to scale proven product segments where buyer familiarity already exists. At the same time, Thailand-specific demand patterns highlight diversification headroom in paper and paperboard decorative articles, made-up textiles, furniture and décor, and gift-oriented lifestyle products, where India's current penetration remains below potential despite strong underlying demand.

Recommendations for Diversification

✚ Integrated Design Collaboration and Market Alignment

Thailand prioritises functional lifestyle products with refined aesthetics and compact urban utility values. Indian exporters should emphasise home décor, gifting, furniture, and statement pieces adapted to local tastes through collaboration with Thai designers and retail curators, improving fit within Thailand's design-forward retail environment.

✚ Thailand as a Strategic Gateway to the ASEAN Market

Thailand should be leveraged as a regional commercial gateway to ASEAN, using local distributors, warehousing, and logistics platforms to access neighbouring markets such as Vietnam, Malaysia, Indonesia, Cambodia, and Laos, enabling regional scale through a single-entry point.

✚ Market Access Enhancement

Market linkages should be strengthened through participation in leading Thai trade fairs and buyer-seller meets, complemented by inviting priority Thai buyers to India for structured reverse buyer-seller meetings to deepen sourcing relationships and support sustained export growth.

❖ Market Overview and Strategic Context

❖ India's trade with Turkey - $ 8.70 Bn

❖ India's total exports to Turkey - $ 5.71 Bn

❖ India's total imports from Turkey- $ 3 Bn

Turkey's handicrafts imports were valued at approximately USD 2.08 billion in 2024, positioning it as a sizeable and diversified market at the intersection of Europe, West Asia, North Africa, and Central Asia. Import sourcing is led by China, Italy, Germany, France, and Thailand, with India ranked among the top six suppliers, reflecting an established but under-scaled trade presence.

Trade between India and Turkey currently operates under general bilateral trade arrangements, without a dedicated free trade agreement. Despite the absence of an FTA, Turkey’s strategic geography, manufacturing depth, and access to European markets make it a critical diversification destination. Turkey functions not only as a consumption market but also as a production and re-export base, enabling indirect access to European and regional value chains. This dual role enhances its relevance for India’s export diversification strategy beyond traditional Western markets.

Product Demand Profile

Turkey’s handicraft imports demand spans both lifestyle and utility-driven categories, with strong emphasis on products linked to home, hospitality, and gifting. Imports are concentrated across woodwares, imitation jewellery, tableware, lighting, and miscellaneous handicrafts, reflecting sustained demand across retail and project-based channels. Key imported handicraft categories include:

- Wheeled toys, dolls and recreational models (950300)
- Plastic packaging boxes and cases (392310)
- Porcelain tableware and kitchenware (691110)
- Articles of jewellery (711311)
- Wooden furniture (Other than Office/Kitchen/Bedroom) (940360)

This mix indicates a market that values functional products with aesthetic appeal, supported by Turkey’s strong domestic retail ecosystem and its role as a supplier to European and regional markets.

India-Turkey Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India’s share in Turkey’s handicrafts imports is estimated at approximately 2.3%, suggesting a meaningful base with clear scope for expansion. A significant overlap exists between Turkey’s top imported handicraft categories and India’s globally exported strengths, including toys, packaging-related articles, jewellery, wooden furniture, and made-up textile products.

India already demonstrates export traction in segments such as attars, plastic packaging boxes, stone and mineral decorative articles, and made-up textile articles, while several high-value Turkish import categories remain under-penetrated by Indian exporters. This creates a strong case for scaling proven segments while expanding into adjacent categories through targeted product adaptation and buyer engagement. The overlap between import demand and India's export capability underscores Turkey's suitability as a diversification market rather than a purely competitive one.

Recommendations for Diversification

✚ Strategic Market Access at the Crossroads of Regions

Turkey occupies a unique position at the intersection of Europe, West Asia, North Africa, and Central Asia. Strengthening trade engagement with Turkey enables Indian exporters to access adjacent markets, integrate into European value chains, and supply intermediate and finished handicraft products through Turkey-based manufacturers and distribution networks.

✚ Market Access Enhancement

Market linkages may be strengthened through structured participation in major Turkish trade fairs and targeted buyer-seller meets, complemented by inviting priority Turkish buyers to India for curated reverse buyer-seller interactions. This approach can improve buyer confidence, support long-term partnerships, and enhance visibility of Indian handicrafts in Turkish and regional markets.

✚ Collaborative Design and Responsible Craft Positioning

Export strategies should focus on handicraft segments aligned with Turkey's demand patterns, particularly tableware, lighting, jewellery, decorative accessories, and furniture accents. Emphasis on collaborative design development, material transparency, and responsible production practices can help Indian exporters differentiate their offerings and align with evolving buyer expectations in Turkey.

Malaysia's handicrafts imports were valued at approximately USD 1.8 billion in 2024, reflecting a meaningful mid-sized market with steady demand across lifestyle, décor, and functional handicraft categories. Import sourcing is led by China, Japan, the United States, and Singapore, with India positioned among the top import sources, indicating an existing base of trade presence and product acceptance.

From a trade architecture standpoint, India-Malaysia trade is anchored in the ASEAN-India Free Trade Area (AIFTA), which facilitates goods trade across ASEAN member states and India. Malaysia’s strategic relevance extends beyond domestic consumption: it serves as a regional hub within ASEAN supply chains and offers a practical platform for accessing broader Southeast Asian consumer markets. This combination of trade architecture, hub positioning, and demand breadth makes Malaysia a priority market for structured diversification within the ASEAN cluster.

Product Demand Profile

Malaysia’s handicraft import demand is concentrated across woodwares and miscellaneous handicrafts, supported by steady imports of décor-led and utility-oriented product categories. The demand mix suggests a market shaped by urban living, lifestyle retail, and hospitality-linked consumption. Key imported handicraft categories include:

- Wooden furniture (Other than Office/Kitchen/Bedroom) (940360)

- Wheeled toys, dolls and recreational models (950300)
- Glass decorative articles (702000)
- Copper handicraft articles (741980)
- Paper and paperboard decorative articles (482390)

This profile points to consistent demand for home and lifestyle products, particularly categories that combine utility with visual appeal, and that fit retail and project procurement formats.

India-Malaysia Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India's share in Malaysia's handicrafts imports is estimated at approximately 3%, indicating a meaningful foothold and scope for systematic scale-up. A significant overlap exists between Malaysia's top imported handicraft categories and India's major exported product strengths, including wooden furniture, decorative paper products, select metal handicrafts, and lifestyle-oriented categories.

India's current exports to Malaysia indicate established traction in categories such as agarbatti and incense products, paper and paperboard decorative articles, and wooden furniture, with additional presence across lifestyle and décor segments. This alignment enables India to scale proven categories while improving penetration through tighter product-market fit, buyer targeting, and distribution expansion. The remaining Malaysia-specific demand categories also indicate diversification headroom, particularly where Malaysia imports at scale but India's current positioning remains comparatively under-leveraged.

Recommendations for Diversification

Gateway to ASEAN and East Asian Markets

Malaysia sits at the heart of ASEAN supply chains and functions as a regional hub for Southeast Asia. Strengthening exports to Malaysia enables Indian exporters to access ASEAN consumer markets more systematically, participate in regional value chains, and integrate into East Asian production and distribution networks through Malaysia-based manufacturers, traders, and distributors.

Integrated Design Collaboration and Market Alignment

Malaysia demonstrates strong demand for contemporary lifestyle and décor products influenced by urban living and hospitality aesthetics. Export strategies should emphasise home décor, lighting, tableware, and home furnishings, supported by design adaptation to suit modern interiors and retail presentation requirements. Collaboration with Malaysian designers, retailers, and visual merchandisers can improve shelf readiness and accelerate acceptance in premium and mid-premium channels.

Engagement with Hospitality and Commercial Projects

Indian exporters should develop project-ready catalogues targeting hotels, serviced residences, cafés, and mixed-use developments. Structured engagement with procurement agencies, interior fit-out firms, and hospitality operators can position Indian handicraft products within Malaysia's growing hospitality ecosystem and unlock repeat institutional orders beyond episodic retail demand.

❖ India's trade with Brazil- $ 12.20 Bn

❖ India's total exports to Brazil - $ 6.77 Bn

❖ India's total imports from Brazil- $ 5.43 Bn

Brazil represents the largest handicrafts import market in Latin America, with total imports valued at USD 1.7 billion in 2024. India already figures among Brazil's top five importing partners, alongside China, the United States, Viet Nam, and Italy, indicating an established - though selective - trade relationship.

The presence of the India -MERCOSUR Preferential Trade Agreement (PTA) provides a foundational institutional framework for trade engagement, positioning Brazil not only as a standalone market but also as a gateway to the wider MERCOSUR region. Brazil’s growing middle class, expanding home décor consumption, and lifestyle-led urban demand make it a strategically relevant diversification market for Indian handicrafts.

Product Demand Profile

Brazil’s handicraft imports are strongly concentrated in lifestyle-oriented categories, with demand anchored around:

- Woodwares and artmetal ware, together accounting for a significant share of imports
- Decorative electric lighting fixtures
- Table, kitchen, and household articles

- Glassware for table and kitchen use
- Quilts, bedspreads, duvets, and home furnishings
- Seasonal and gifting categories, including Christmas decorative articles

The demand mix reflects Brazil’s consumption patterns focused on home décor, functional lifestyle products, and decorative utility items, rather than purely ornamental crafts.

India -Brazil Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India’s current share in Brazil’s handicrafts imports stands at approximately 3.7 per cent, indicating meaningful presence with substantial headroom for expansion.

Demand -Supply Alignment

- Three categories overlap between Brazil’s top global handicraft imports and India’s Top 20 exports:
 - Wheeled toys, dolls & recreational models
 - Made-up textile articles
 - Quilts, bedding, and home furnishings
- Brazil already sources from India in toys, carved décor, stone & mineral articles, glass décor, ceramics, and wellness products, demonstrating buyer familiarity and confidence.

Identified Gaps and Diversification Headroom

- High-value categories such as:
 - Decorative electric lighting
 - Table & household articles
 - Glass tableware and drinking glasses
 - Christmas and seasonal decorative articles feature prominently in Brazil's global imports but remain under-supplied from India.

This gap highlights targeted diversification potential, allowing India to deepen exports by expanding into categories already aligned with Brazil's lifestyle consumption patterns rather than entering unfamiliar segments.

Recommendations for Diversification

- ✚ Regional Gateway Potential (MERCOSUR): Brazil can serve as a regional anchor market within MERCOSUR, enabling Indian handicraft exporters to access neighbouring economies through shared distributors and regional supply networks.
- ✚ Collaborative Design & Responsible Craft: Focus on handicrafts aligned with Brazil's home and décor demand, with select products positioned under a responsible craft narrative, supported by basic material transparency and origin verification.
- ✚ Market Access Enhancement: Strengthen market linkages through participation in trade fairs and buyer -seller meets in Brazil, complemented by inviting priority Brazilian buyers to India for structured reverse buyer -seller meetings.
- ✚ Shipping & Logistics Facilitation: Support may be considered for improving shipping connectivity and consolidation options to Brazil, including facilitation through trans-shipment hubs and engagement with South America-focused logistics providers to reduce transit time and costs for Indian exporters.

- ❖ India's trade with Israel- $ 3.62 Bn
- ❖ India's total exports to Israel - $ 2.14 Bn
- ❖ India's total imports from Israel- $ 1.48 Bn

Israel's handicrafts imports were valued at approximately USD 1.5 billion in 2024, reflecting a high-income, design-oriented consumption market with strong demand for functional décor, lifestyle products, and artisanal home solutions. Import sourcing is led by China, Switzerland, Italy, Hong Kong, and Turkey, while India ranks 8th, indicating a relatively stronger presence compared to several other diversification markets.

From a trade architecture perspective, India and Israel are currently engaged in FTA negotiations, signalling improving medium-term market access and deeper institutional trade engagement. Israel’s market is characterised by design sensitivity, preference for quality and durability, and a willingness to pay for differentiated products. This positions Israel as a value-led diversification market, where growth is driven more by premium positioning than by large-volume expansion.

India-Israel Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India's share in Israel's handicrafts imports is estimated at around 2%, reflecting an established but still under-scaled presence. India already exports a diversified basket to Israel, including wooden furniture, made-up textile articles, aluminium household articles, plastic packaging, lighting fixtures, and select lifestyle products.

Analysis indicates that five of Israel's top ten imported handicraft categories overlap with India's Top 20 globally exported products, providing a strong base for focused diversification. In particular, wheeled toys and dolls, furniture of cane, wicker, and similar materials, and made-up textile articles rank among both Israel's key imports and India's export strengths, highlighting immediate scale-up opportunities.

At the same time, categories such as lighting fixtures, aluminium household articles, modern furniture sub-segments, and utility-driven décor remain under-penetrated relative to demand, pointing to clear diversification headroom for Indian exporters.

Recommendations for Diversification

Integrated Design Collaboration and Market Alignment

Israel places strong emphasis on contemporary design, craftsmanship, and functional aesthetics. Indian exporters should prioritise home décor, tableware, lighting, and lifestyle products adapted to local tastes through collaboration with Israeli designers and retail curators, improving acceptance in premium retail formats.

Market Access Enhancement

Market linkages should be strengthened through targeted participation in trade fairs and buyer-seller meets in Israel, complemented by inviting priority Israeli buyers to India for structured reverse buyer-seller meetings to deepen sourcing relationships.

Product-Market Fit Development

Exporters should develop new products aligned with Israeli demand in key segments such as home décor, lighting fixtures, table and household articles, made-up textiles, and furniture and decorative items, with emphasis on quality, durability, and modern aesthetics.

❖ India's total exports to Kazakhstan - $ 0.26 Bn

❖ India's total imports from Kazakhstan- $ 0.09 Bn

Kazakhstan's handicrafts imports were valued at approximately USD 1.04 billion in 2024, reflecting a steady, utility-oriented consumption market shaped by urbanisation, residential development, and expanding commercial and hospitality infrastructure. Import sourcing is led by China, the Russian Federation, Turkey, Italy, and Belarus, while India ranks around 20th, indicating a very limited current market presence.

From a trade architecture perspective, there is no active FTA between India and Kazakhstan, and bilateral trade continues under standard trade arrangements. Despite the absence of preferential access, Kazakhstan’s strategic location in Eurasia and Central Asia, combined with its role within regional trade groupings, positions it as a longer-term diversification and engagement market rather than a near-term volume play.

The market is characterised by price sensitivity, durability requirements, and functional consumption, with demand concentrated in products that serve residential interiors, basic décor, and everyday household use. Kazakhstan therefore represents a gradual, structurally aligned diversification opportunity for Indian handicrafts exports.

- Wheeled toys, dolls, and recreational models
- Wooden furniture (other than office, kitchen, and bedroom)
- Ceramic tableware and household articles (non-porcelain)
- LED chandeliers and electric wall or ceiling lights
- Wooden bedroom furniture (non-seating)

Additional demand is observed in textile accessories, plastic packaging boxes, decorative lighting fixtures, and made-up textile articles, indicating scope for diversification within functional décor and lifestyle categories.

India-Kazakhstan Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India’s share in Kazakhstan’s handicrafts imports is estimated at around 0.2%, underscoring a nascent and under-developed trade relationship. India’s existing exports to Kazakhstan are spread across attars of all kind, leather wallets and small accessories, copper handicraft articles, wooden furniture, textile headgear, imitation jewellery, and agarbatti products.

Analysis shows that four of Kazakhstan’s top ten handicrafts import categories overlap with India’s Top 20 globally exported handicraft products, indicating a foundational alignment between Kazakhstan’s demand structure and India’s production strengths.

These overlaps allow India to scale proven product segments, particularly in wooden furniture, toys, lighting, and select textile accessories, while remaining import categories highlight clear diversification headroom for Indian exporters to expand their product mix and capture unmet demand over time.

Recommendations for Diversification

Strategic Gateway to Eurasia and Central Asia

Kazakhstan should be positioned as a gateway market for Central Asia and the wider Eurasian region, enabling Indian exporters to establish an early presence in emerging regional value chains while reducing dependence on traditional export destinations.

Design Alignment with Import Demand

Product development should focus on categories aligned with Kazakhstan’s import demand, including wooden furniture, ceramic tableware, decorative lighting, toys, and select textile accessories, with design adaptation for contemporary interiors, durability, and price-sensitive market segments.

Strengthening Export Connectivity and Market Access

Export engagement should be supported by improving multimodal connectivity, including rail and road corridors via key transit hubs, and facilitating consolidation and routing solutions to reduce logistics costs and transit time. These measures will enhance competitiveness for Indian exporters operating in a non-FTA environment.

- Wheeled toys & recreational models
- Decorative electric lighting fixtures
- Table, kitchen & household articles
- Made-up textile articles
- Carved decorative articles (vegetable, mineral & wax materials)

Secondary demand is visible in quilts & bedding, stone and mineral décor, imitation jewellery, textile headgear, and paper-based decorative articles, reflecting a balanced mix of utility, décor, and gifting segments.

India -Argentina Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

- Eight categories overlap between Argentina's top global handicraft imports and India's Top 20 exported handicraft products, indicating clear demand alignment.
- Argentina already sources from India across toys, carved décor, stone articles, imitation jewellery, metal handicrafts, and wellness products, reflecting an existing but under-scaled India presence.
- High-demand categories such as decorative electric lighting, table & household articles, made-up textiles, quilts & bedding, and textile headgear feature prominently in Argentina's imports but remain limited in India's export basket to Argentina.
- This gap highlights targeted diversification potential, particularly in home furnishings, lighting décor, textiles, and utility-led lifestyle categories, aligned with Argentina's consumption patterns.

Recommendations

- ✚ Entry Point to MERCOSUR Markets Leverage: Located in Southern South America, Argentina can act as a commercial entry point to MERCOSUR markets such as Brazil, Uruguay, and Paraguay through shared distribution and regional sourcing networks.

- ✚ Market Access Enhancement: Strengthen market linkages through participation in trade fairs and buyer -seller meets in Argentina, complemented by inviting priority buyers to India for structured reverse buyer -seller meetings.
- ✚ Product -Market Fit: Develop products aligned with Argentinian market demand in key segments such as wheeled toys, lighting fixtures, table & household articles, made-up textiles, carved décor, and imitation jewellery.
- ✚ Shipping & Logistics Facilitation: Support may be considered for improving shipping connectivity and consolidation options to Argentina, including facilitation through trans-shipment hubs and engagement with South America-focused logistics providers to reduce transit time and costs for Indian exporters.

- Plastic Packaging Boxes & Cases (HSN 392310)

Additional demand is visible across decorative collages & plaques, ceramic tableware, wooden bedroom furniture, and imitation jewellery reflecting sustained consumption across home décor, gifting, and utility categories.

India -South Africa Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India's share in South Africa's handicrafts imports is approximately 7%, indicating a relatively stronger foothold compared to several other target markets.

- Five of South Africa's top ten handicraft import categories overlap with India's Top 20 globally exported handicraft products, demonstrating a strong base for focused diversification.

- These overlaps allow India to scale proven product segments -notably wheeled toys, wooden furniture, made-up textiles, decorative plaques, and imitation jewellery - within the South African market.
- Despite this alignment, two high-potential categories -Made-up Textile Articles and Decorative Collages & Plaques -remain relatively under-penetrated by India, despite featuring prominently in South Africa’s import basket.
- Several South Africa-specific import categories highlight clear diversification headroom, enabling Indian exporters to expand product depth and breadth while capturing unmet demand.

This alignment indicates that South Africa is well-suited for both volume expansion in existing strengths and targeted product diversification.

Recommendations

Integrated Design Collaboration and Market Alignment

South Africa prioritises functional lifestyle products with strong aesthetic value. Emphasise everyday home décor, furniture, lighting, and tableware adapted to modern interiors by collaborating with South African designers and home stylists.

South Africa as Strategic Gateway to the SADC Region

Use South Africa as a commercial gateway to the Southern African Development Community (SADC), leveraging local distributors and warehousing to access neighbouring markets such as Namibia, Botswana, Zambia, and Mozambique.

Logistics Optimization for Trade Development

Reduce South African export costs by establishing government-backed shipping corridors and consolidated freight routes. Streamlining these logistics through preferential rates and cluster-level aggregation will mitigate shipping delays and improve price competitiveness for Indian artisans.

South Africa is a strategically important diversification market for Indian handicrafts, combining domestic consumption with the ability to act as a regional gateway into Southern Africa. Demand is supported by organised retail, a growing middle-income consumer base, and hospitality-linked procurement, making the market suitable for scalable, utility-led handicraft exports.

Oman represents a small but structurally favourable handicrafts market with total handicraft imports of approximately USD 286 million (2023). The entry into force of the India -Oman Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA) on 18 December 2025 provides a significant strategic advantage for Indian exporters, offering duty-free access on 98.8% of tariff lines covering 99.38% of India's exports.

Why Should India focus on Oman

With the India-Oman CEPA in place, providing duty-free access on 98.08% of tariff lines covering 99.38% of India's exports, Oman offers a low-barrier entry point for handicrafts. Diversification into Oman supports expansion in the Gulf while leveraging strong cultural affinity and re-export potential to neighbouring markets.

- ❖ Top 10 Importing Countries to Oman in Handicrafts: UAE, China, India, Türkiye, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, Egypt, Lebanon, Türkiye.
- ❖ Oman's market is characterised by strong cultural affinity with India, steady residential and hospitality-driven consumption, and a dual role as both a consumption and re-export market for neighbouring Gulf economies. Diversification into Oman therefore supports India's broader Gulf strategy while leveraging predictable market access under CEPA.

India's share in Oman's Handicrafts Imports is ~8%

Oman's handicraft import demand is concentrated in home, furniture, décor, and utility-oriented categories, reflecting residential usage, hospitality fit-outs, and lifestyle consumption.

Key imported categories include:

- Woodwares (36%)
- Artmetal ware (14%)
- Handknitted & hand-crocheted / embroideries (7%)
- Attars & agarbatties (6%)
- Imitation jewellery (4%)
- Handprinted textiles (2%)
- Miscellaneous handicrafts (31%)

At the product level, Oman's top imported handicrafts include:

- Wheeled toys & dolls
- Wooden bedroom furniture
- Wooden furniture (other than office, kitchen & bedroom)
- Decorative electric lighting fixtures
- Bedding & furnishing articles

This profile highlights functional, home-centric demand rather than purely ornamental consumption.

India - Oman Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

There is strong structural alignment between Oman's global handicraft imports and India's export strengths:

- Six categories overlap between Oman's top global handicraft imports and India's Top 20 exported handicraft products, indicating strong baseline demand alignment.
- Oman already sources a diverse basket from India, including wooden furniture, made-up textiles, table & household articles, paper-based décor, and agarbatti, reflecting buyer confidence in Indian suppliers.
- Despite this overlap, several high-value categories remain under-penetrated by India, even though they feature prominently in Oman's global imports:
 - Wooden bedroom furniture
 - Decorative electric lighting
 - Cane & wicker furniture
 - Porcelain tableware
 - Home furnishings

This gap indicates clear diversification headroom, particularly within furniture sub-categories, décor lighting, natural-material furnishings, and home-use tableware, all of which align with Oman's residential and hospitality demand patterns.

Recommendations

Brand Co-creation & Collaboration:

Encourage co-creation partnerships between Indian handicraft producers and Omani brands or retailers to develop market-specific product lines, enabling shared branding, better market acceptance, and stronger visibility in premium and lifestyle segments.

CEPA-Linked Scale-Up

Treat the India - Oman CEPA (signed 18 Dec 2025) as the enabler for faster market entry and scale planning - align the Oman pipeline to the agreement's market-access pathway and lock medium-term channel partnerships around predictable duty outcomes.

Design & Product Match

Facilitate design collaboration with Omani designers to align Indian handicrafts with local and diaspora preferences, focusing on Oman-relevant categories such as woodware, art metal, lighting, home furnishings, and giftable décor.

Market Access Enhancement

Strengthen market linkages through participation in trade fairs and buyer -seller meets in Oman, complemented by inviting priority buyers to India for structured reverse buyer -seller meetings.

Hospitality & Real Estate Supply

Position Indian handicrafts as fit-out and home furnishings for hotels, serviced apartments, and F&B spaces - standardise SKUs for lamps, décor objects, tableware accents, and room accessories with reliable replenishment cycles.

Demand is largely driven by home décor, gifting, hospitality fit-outs, and urban retail, with a strong preference for visually expressive, durable, and status-oriented products.

Product Alignment and Diversification Potential

India accounts for approximately 9% of Nigeria's handicraft imports, indicating an existing but under-leveraged trade relationship.

- 4 of Nigeria's Top 10 handicrafts import categories overlap with India's Top 20 globally exported products, providing a solid base for scale-up.
- Nigeria already sources from India in agarbatti & incense products, carved decorative articles, attars, glass décor, and select household items, reflecting established acceptance of Indian products.
- Wheeled toys, dolls & recreational models rank among both Nigeria's top imports and India's export strengths, representing a significant untapped volume opportunity.
- High-demand categories such as table & household articles, non-electrical lighting, wooden furniture, paper décor, and curated decorative articles are present in Nigeria's import basket but remain under-represented in India's exports to Nigeria.

This gap highlights clear diversification headroom for India by expanding its product mix in line with Nigeria’s lifestyle consumption patterns.

Recommendations for Diversification

- ✚ Integrated Design Collaboration and Market Alignment: Nigeria values visually expressive, durable, and status-oriented products. Indian exporters should focus on decorative home accents, gifting articles, furniture, and statement pieces, adapted to local tastes through collaboration with Nigerian designers and retail curators.
- ✚ Nigeria as Strategic Gateway to the ECOWAS Region: Position Nigeria as a regional anchor market for accessing ECOWAS economies such as Ghana, Côte d’Ivoire, Senegal, Benin, Togo, and Sierra Leone through shared distributors and warehousing networks.
- ✚ Logistics Optimization for Trade Development: Support may be considered for improving shipping connectivity and consolidation routes to Nigeria. Government-backed shipping corridors, preferential freight rates, and cluster-level aggregation can help reduce transit delays, lower costs, and improve price competitiveness for Indian exporters.

9. Key Challenges in the Indian Handicrafts Export Ecosystem

India's handicrafts export performance is shaped by a combination of demand-side market access constraints and supply-side structural limitations. Together, these challenges restrict scale, competitiveness, and the sector's ability to diversify into new markets.

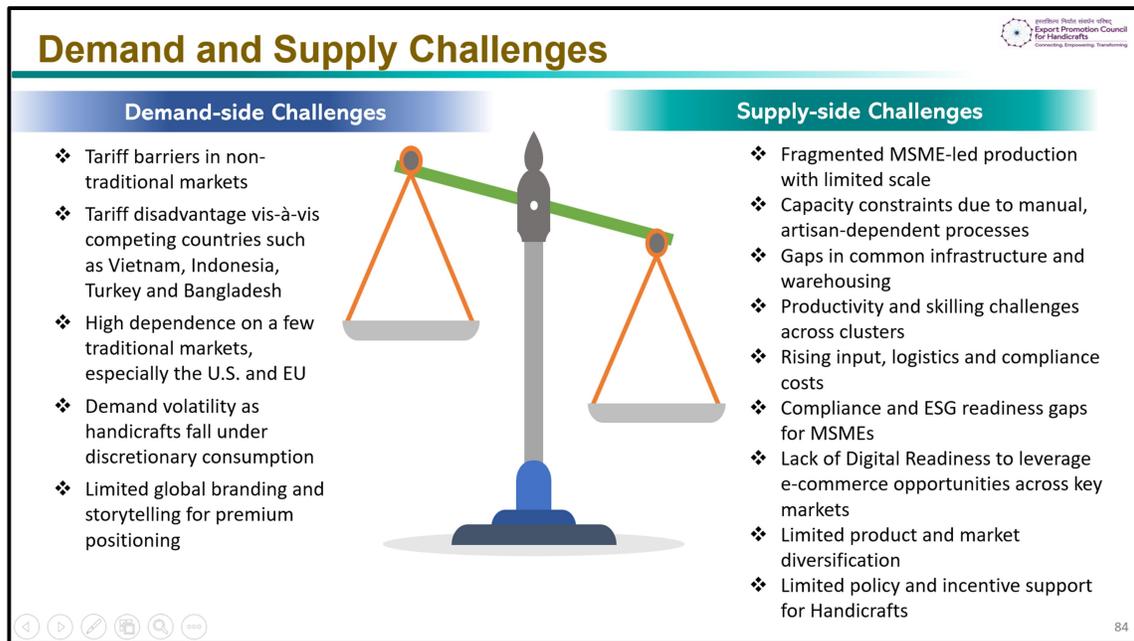

Figure 4 Key Structural Challenges Facing Indian Handicrafts Exports: Demand-side market access barriers and supply-side production constraints shape export performance.

I. Demand-Side Challenge

Indian handicrafts exporters continue to face market access barriers, particularly in non-traditional and emerging markets. In several destinations, tariff structures place Indian products at a disadvantage relative to competing supplier countries such as Vietnam, Indonesia, Turkey, and Bangladesh, many of which benefit from more favourable trade arrangements.

Export outcomes are also influenced by high dependence on a narrow set of traditional markets, notably the United States and the European Union. While these markets remain important, their maturity exposes exports to demand slowdowns and cyclical volatility, especially as handicrafts are largely discretionary consumption products.

In addition, limited global branding and storytelling constrains India's ability to consistently position handicrafts in premium and differentiated segments. In the absence of strong, unified narratives around craftsmanship, authenticity, and sustainability, Indian products often compete primarily on price rather than value.

II. Supply-Side Challenges

On the supply side, the handicrafts sector is characterised by fragmented, MSME-led production structures with limited scale. Production remains heavily dependent on manual, artisan-driven processes, which, while central to the sector's identity, constrain capacity expansion and responsiveness to large or repeat export orders.

Gaps in common infrastructure, warehousing, and aggregation facilities further limit supply-chain efficiency. These constraints are compounded by productivity and skilling challenges across clusters, leading to uneven quality and delivery timelines.

Rising input, logistics, and compliance costs have added pressure on exporter margins, particularly for small and medium exporters. At the same time, compliance and ESG readiness gaps make it increasingly difficult for MSMEs to meet evolving requirements in key international markets.

Limited digital readiness across large parts of the sector restricts the ability to leverage e-commerce and digital B2B platforms, which are becoming increasingly important channels for market access. Finally, limited product and market diversification, combined with constraints in policy and incentive support for handicrafts, continues to impede the sector's long-term competitiveness.

10. Unified Branding Initiative: India Handmade - Magic of Gifted Hands

To strengthen global recognition, trust, and value perception of Indian handicrafts, it is recommended that a unified national branding initiative - “India Handmade: Magic of Gifted Hands” be developed and promoted as a common identity for Indian handicraft exports.

A coherent national initiative would help position Indian handicrafts as authentic, artisan-led, sustainable, and globally credible, addressing fragmentation in current overseas representation and improving recall across markets.

Key elements of India Handmade - Magic of Gifted Hands shall include:

+ Development of a Unified National Brand

Establish “India Handmade” as a common umbrella initiative to represent Indian handicrafts globally, reinforcing authenticity, craftsmanship, and heritage, while aligning with contemporary global sustainability and ethical sourcing expectations.

+ Voluntary Adoption by Exporters

Exporters may be encouraged to adopt the “India Handmade” identity across products, packaging, websites, catalogues, and promotional material, enabling consistent representation without mandating uniformity across individual brands.

✚ Institutional Promotion through Indian Missions Abroad

EPCH may request Indian embassies and missions overseas to showcase handicraft products under the “India Handmade” initiative during:

- International exhibitions and trade fairs
- Official events and protocol gifting
- Cultural and diplomatic outreach programmes

✚ Consistent Use Across International Platforms

Promote uniform brand usage across international exhibitions, trade delegations, buyer-seller meets, and official Indian pavilions to enhance global recall and visibility of Indian handicrafts as a category.

✚ Initiative Reinforcement through Storytelling and Sustainability

The initiative may be reinforced through structured artisan storytelling, craft cluster narratives, and sustainability credentials, highlighting the labour-intensive, inclusive, and environmentally responsible nature of Indian handicrafts.

This umbrella identity of India Handmade - Magic of Gifted Hands is intended to function as a long-term demand creation and value-building lever, complementing policy and operational support measures by strengthening India’s home power, brand equity, and premium positioning in global handicrafts markets.

11. Support Required from Government

I. Policy Support Required from Government

In the context of heightened global competition, cost pressures, and demand volatility in key export markets, targeted policy interventions are required to strengthen the competitiveness and resilience of India’s handicrafts export sector. Given the sector’s labour-intensive nature and high MSME participation, policy support plays a critical role in sustaining export viability and employment.

Policy Support Required from Government
1. Interest Subvention Scheme - Export Promotion Mission <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Enhancement of interest subvention rate from 2.75% to 4-5% Inclusion of merchant exporters under the scheme Coverage of 11 missing 8-digit ITC-HS codes representing core handicraft products with exports of ₹4,085.61 crore annually to key markets. 	5. Reintroduction of MEIS for Handicrafts Reintroduce MEIS with enhanced rates, prioritizing labour-intensive handicrafts and key markets such as the USA.
2. Relaxation under Section 43B(h) Provide relaxation for export-oriented MSMEs where international payment cycles extend to 90–180 days.	6. PLI-Type Incentive for Handicrafts Introduce a PLI-linked export incentive for exporters above ₹50 crore turnover, linked to incremental exports.
3. Enhancement of Duty Drawback Rates Increase AIR Duty Drawback beyond the current 1%-2.2% to support working capital and export viability.	7. ECGC Premium Subsidy Provide central-level subsidy on ECGC premium, on lines similar to the Uttar Pradesh 30% support model.
4. Enhancement of RoDTEP Rates Upward revision of RoDTEP rates from the existing 0.50% – 2.3% to better offset embedded taxes.	8. Sustainability Certification Support Reimburse costs for ESG-aligned sustainability certifications through EPC-led frameworks, similar to MAI models.

The following policy measures are recommended:

1. Interest Subvention Scheme - Export Promotion Mission

✚ Enhancement of Subvention Rate:

The notified subvention rate of 2.75% under the Export Promotion Mission - Niryat Prothasaha is a welcome beginning. However, given the labour-intensive nature of handicrafts, their longer production cycles, and higher design costs, it is requested that the rate of subvention for the handicrafts sector be enhanced to 4-5% to ensure sustainable credit support.

✚ Inclusion of Merchant Exporters:

Merchant exporters constitute a vital link between small producers, artisans, and international markets. We request that merchant exporters be included under the ambit of eligible beneficiaries in the scheme to ensure comprehensive sectoral benefit.

✚ Inclusion of Missing ITC-HS Codes:

Upon reviewing the notified list, it is observed that 11 ITC-HS codes (at the eight - digit level) pertaining to core handicraft products - including wooden articles, candles copperware, stone crafts, filigree jewellery and basket weaker work articles - are currently not included.

These product categories collectively contribute exports worth approximately ₹ 4085.61 crore annually to major destinations such as the USA, EU, UK, and the Middle East. Inclusion of these HS codes (Annexure- A) would ensure full representation of the handicrafts sector under this important financial support scheme.

2. Relaxation under Section 43B(h) of the Income Tax Act

✚ Export-oriented MSMEs in the handicrafts sector often operate under extended international payment terms ranging from 90 to 180 days. It is recommended that relaxation be provided under Section 43B(h) for such exporters, recognising the structural nature of export payment cycles.

✚ This would reduce compliance stress, prevent unintended tax liabilities, and align domestic regulatory provisions with international trade practices.

3. Enhancement of Duty Drawback Rates

✚ The current All Industry Rate (AIR) of Duty Drawback for handicrafts - typically in the range of 1.0% to 2.2% - does not fully offset embedded taxes and duties.

✚ An upward revision of Duty Drawback rates is recommended to:

- Improve export cost competitiveness
- Support working capital availability
- Enhance viability of exports, particularly for MSME exporters

4. Enhancement of RoDTEP Rates

✚ The RoDTEP rates applicable to handicraft products may be reviewed and enhanced from the existing range of 0.50% to 2.3%, to better neutralise unrebated taxes and levies embedded in the export supply chain.

✚ An appropriate upward revision would ensure tax neutrality, in line with WTO-compliant export support mechanisms.

5. Reintroduction of MEIS for Handicrafts

✚ Given the labour-intensive and artisan-driven nature of the handicrafts sector, reintroduction of an incentive mechanism similar to the Merchandise Exports from India Scheme (MEIS) is recommended, with:

- Enhanced incentive rates
- Priority coverage for labour-intensive handicrafts
- Focus on key markets such as the United States

✚ Such support would help offset external cost disadvantages and sustain export momentum in price-sensitive markets.

6. PLI-Type Incentive for Handicrafts

✚ A Production-Linked Incentive (PLI)-type export incentive may be considered for the handicrafts sector, applicable to exporters with turnover above ₹50 crore, and linked to incremental export performance.

✚ This would:

- Encourage scale and formalisation
- Incentivise export growth rather than volume substitution
- Support the emergence of globally competitive handicraft exporters

7. ECGC Premium Subsidy

✚ To reduce risk exposure and insurance costs for exporters, it is recommended that a central-level subsidy on ECGC premiums be introduced, on lines similar to the Uttar Pradesh model, which provides up to 30% support.

- Such a measure would encourage wider adoption of export credit insurance, improve risk management, and facilitate smoother access to bank credit.

8. Sustainability Certification Support

- As sustainability and ESG compliance increasingly function as entry requirements in global markets, reimbursement support may be provided for costs incurred on ESG-aligned sustainability certifications.
- Support may be channelled through EPC-led frameworks, similar to existing MAI models, to ensure standardisation, credibility, and sector-wide adoption.

II. Other Support Required from Government

In addition to targeted policy interventions, a set of regulatory, credit, and market-linkage support measures is required to address operational bottlenecks and strengthen export execution capabilities across the handicrafts ecosystem. These measures are particularly critical for MSME-led exporters operating in an environment of volatile demand, trade disruptions, and evolving market access requirements.

A. Regulatory and Facilitation Support

✚ Duty-Free Inputs under the IGCR Scheme

To reduce input costs and procedural complexity, it is recommended that

EPCH-issued duty-free import certification, based on past export performance, be restored under the IGCR framework. This would simplify compliance, improve predictability in raw material sourcing, and support timely fulfilment of export orders.

Cross-Border B2B E-Commerce Facilitation

With increasing relevance of digital trade channels for handicraft exports, further facilitation under CBEC policies is required. Streamlining may include:

- Coverage of bulk and consolidated shipments
- Provision for partial eBRC settlement
- Simplified procedures for return of goods

Such measures would enable exporters to leverage cross-border B2B e-commerce platforms while maintaining regulatory compliance.

B. Credit and Banking-Related Support

 Credit and Banking Support in the Context of Trade Disruptions: In light of ongoing global trade disruptions, targeted banking support is required for handicraft exporters. While the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has issued circulars on trade relief measures, the current framework identifies only 20 HS Chapters at the two-digit level as eligible for such support.

 Several key handicraft product categories, despite their significant contribution to India's handicraft exports and their labour-intensive nature, are not presently covered. There is a need to expand eligibility under RBI trade relief measures to include core handicrafts HS chapters, enabling exporters to access enhanced working capital support, restructuring facilities, and repayment flexibility aligned with international payment cycles.

C. Market Linkage and Export Infrastructure Support

Global Market Linkage Scheme (Warehousing and Showrooms)

To improve physical market presence and reduce delivery timelines in priority export destinations, support may be considered for:

- Offshore warehousing and fulfilment infrastructure

- Establishment of exclusive Indian handicrafts showrooms
- Cash-and-carry formats in high-potential overseas markets

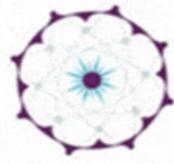

Such infrastructure would enhance buyer confidence, reduce logistics costs, and facilitate repeat orders, particularly in emerging and alternative markets.

MAI-Modelled Component under the Export Promotion Mission

Reintroduction of a MAI-modelled incentive component under the Export Promotion Mission is recommended, with a focused orientation toward:

- Emerging markets and alternative FTA destinations
- Regions such as LATAM, GCC (including UAE), the UK, and other high-potential markets

Support under this component may cover overseas promotions, buyer-seller engagements, and market-specific outreach activities, enabling exporters to diversify beyond traditional destinations.
